BIG REAL ESTATE BOOM IS NOW ON

Unprecedented Activity In Realty Shows No Abatement

HUNDREDS OF SALES

Many Valuable Pieces of Real Estate in Every Part of City Being Transferred—Demand Increasing.

At the present time there is unusual activity in the real estate market in this city. The demand for residential property according to real estate brokers has been heavier than ever before in the history of the city. In addition many business pieces of property have changed hands during the past month.

Real estate dealers also say that in addition to the home buyers hundreds of others have purchased property for speculative purposes and from now on they say the demand will be even far greater than it is at the present time.

This week will witness the transfer of many more valuable pieces of property. The demand for property in this is not confined to any particular locality, transfers being made in every section of the city.

One real estate man stated today that he expects to close the sale of six houses all in different parts of the city before the close of the present week. Another has just completed the sale of two fine residential pieces of property, and one business piece of property it is expected will be transfered this week.

It is pointed out by real estate dealers that this is just the beginning of the activity and indications are that prices may advance should the unprecedented demand for property continue as it has during the past month.

The fact that there is not a single idle house in the city that is habitable is regarded by dealers as a good omen and that the demand for houses far exceeds the supply shows the need of more houses in this city.

Before the late autumn many attractive houses contemplated will be erected. This will somewhat relieve the situation, However, with the additional population expected here many more houses than those proposed at the present time will be needed to meet present day demands

Rosar ,the driver, and robbed him of more than $50, his receipts of the night. One of the quartette then took the wheel of the machine, drove back to this city and, while running at a high speed over the Linden street viaduct, threw Rosar from the machine. Rosar had a narrow escape from being killed.

STUDENTS PRESENT FARCE COMEDY

"The Arrival of Kitty" Greeted by Appreciative Audience

TO REPEAT IT TONIGHT

Amateur Actors Make Hit In Play At High School Auditorium Last Night.

The seniors of the Alexandria High School scored a big hit in their class play entitled "The Arrival of Kitty" which was presented last night in the auditorium of the High School before a large and appreciative audience. So successful was the play that it was decided to repeat the performance tonight at the same place. The performance will begin promptly at 8.30 o'clock.

The play surpassed all anticipations. The role of Samuel the negro porter, being especially amusing.

One of the big hits in the performance was the diguise of the hero as "Kitty Benders" a notorious actress.

There was considerable merriment when the real "Kitty" appeared on the scene. In fact, the play was one continuous laugh throughout. The plot complication in the farce kept the audience at close attention until its conclusion.

The cast of characters follows:

William Winkler, Alvin Friedlander; Aunt Jane (his sister), Alamedia Parks; Jane (his niece), Irene Manley Bobby Baxter, Thomas E. Kelley; Benjamin More, Herbert O'Meara; Ting (a bellboy), Hugh Marsh; Sam (a colored porter), Everett Pohl; Kitty (an actress), Margaret Abramson; Suzette (aunt Jane's Maid), Reba O'Neal.

As stated above the play will be repeated tonight at 8.30 o'clock.

Part of the proceeds going to the Alexandria Hospital. The public is invited to attend and help to make the performance a success for this deserving cause.

Agnes, aged 34, refused to become a snake charmer at her husband's bidding so that he could utilize her for sideshow purposes, Agnes brought suit for divorce, but Mrs. Agnes cross- petitioned and was granted the divorce today by Judge C. W. Hoffman. In the Domestic Relations Court she testified that her husband said he was going to shave their young son's head when he was old enough and by placing a wig on him utilize the child as a wild man. She charged that Agnes had twice sold their house hold furniture in order to go into the show business. Agnes did not prosecute his petition.

LIQUOR BY WAY OF POPE'S CREEK

Mail Carrier Between That Point and Colonial Beach Is Arrested

SOME FOR OFFICIALS

Believed Large Percentage of Liquor Sold in Alexandria Reaches Here Via The Lower Potomac.

It has often been suggested that much of the liquor circulated in Alexandria reaches this port via Pope's Creek. It is said to be brought there on trains and transported to Alexandria by motor boats.

Capt. John Bruce, pilot of the government mail boat which plies between Popes Creek and Colonial Beach, was arrested yesterday, changed with bringing whisky into Virginia.

Rumor has it that the contraband liquor was intended for the tables and decanters of some of the best known and respected families at the watering place.

Capt. Bruce and a colored helper known as John Pendleton, it is said, were taken to Montross, the county seat of Westmoreland County, to await the action of the grand jury and Postmaster General Burleson, who has a vacation cottage near the beach, is expected to arrive today for personal investigation, inasmuch as one of his subordinate employes and a postoffice contract are involved.

It was whispered around that some of the case goods had the name of a justice of the peace on it. Others had the names of a Councilman and two village grocers.

When the cases of Capt. Bruce and Pendleton are called to the attention of the grand jury interesting developments are expected.

It appears that almost everybody at Colonial Beach that desired liquor found no difficulty in securing it and this fact, indirectly, brought about the investigation which resulted in the arrests.

Another interesting sidelight is that offenses against the excise law carrying a maximum penalty of 20 years and part of this sentence must be spent on the Virginia roads cracking stone.

N. Y. TO REMAIN "WET" AFTER JULY FIRST

New York, June 26.—New York will not be wholly dry on July 1, regardless of whether President Wilson acts before next Tuesday to set aside the war-time prohibition law.

Six hundred liuor dealers, said to have the backing of the Lager Beer Brewers Board of Trade, will continue to serve all kinds of drinks. They will act on the advice of attorneys, who have pointed out that there is no provision for enforcement of the law, and who have registered the opinion that it is unconstitutional. They expect to have a test case rushed to court.

William H. Hirst, counsel for the New York Society of Restaurateurs today advised hotelkeepers and restaurants to continue dispensing drinks but to confine their sales to light wines and beers in conformity with President Wilson's recommendation to Congress, in order not to appear to be defying the law. He plans to have a test case brought into court and then obtain the suspension of the law by injunction, pending a decision on its constitutionality.

Liquor dealers continued to express the hope today that the President will set aside the law before it becomes effective Tuesday, but a steady stream of "booze" shoppers was pouring into the stores. At Broadway and Forty-second street, a fifteen-foot sign announced bargains in whiskey, wines and other liquors.

A crowd of eager bidders attended the auction sale of the private liquor supply of the late Nat Goodwin, the actor. The sale brought $6,000.

TAKES UP FLEET'S SINKING

Clemenceau, George and Wilson Closely Examine German Ship's Status.

Paris, June 26.—The. Council. of Three, composed of Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and President Wilson, at its meeting yesterday discussed the scuttling of the German fleet at Scapa Flow. The Council had before it and examined fully, it is added, the facts relative to what took place with regard to the ships at the time the armistice was signed.

The following statement, the news agency says, may be regarded as an official explanation;

"At the time of the signing of the armistice, the British Admiralty and the British Government strongly urged that the German ships should be surrendered. The French military authorities, however, put forward the view that for the purpose of the armistice the surrender of the German ships was not absolutely essential. They were most anxious that he armistice should be concluded, having regard for the very serious loss of life daily on the western front. Insistence upon surrender of the fleet they felt, might delay the signing for which, despite rumors to the contrary Marshal Foch was as desirous as any one.

"The French, therefore, suggested that the German ships be interned in neutral ports, a course which they believed would not be regarded by the enemy in the same way as would the surrender of the ships. This view was supported by Admiral Benson (American Naval Representative in Paris).

"Ultimately a compromise was reached providing for the internment of the ships in a British port."

FORMER SENATOR DEAD

He was an active lawyer, and was engaged in much important litigation during his lifetime. For a number of years he served as chairman of the Democratic commitee in Mecklenburg County.

ENDORSES RETIREMENT

Secretary of War Urges Bill as Tending to Attract Better Workers

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker came out strongly for a retirement bill for government employes yesterday at the hearing on the Sterling retirement bill before the Senate Committee on Civil Service and Retrenchment.

"I have a very strong feeling," he said, "that we should do everything we can to make the government service dignified so it will attract the best and most competent class of employes. If the public service is put on a dignified basis it will mean not only a just compensation during the period of active work, but an annuity which will enable the employes to live modestly during the rest of their lives. The good of the service both in getting and in retaining the best type of employes dictates that some kind of a retirement measure should be passed."

GERMANS ARE PROCRASTINATING

Allies Express Impatience at Tardy Selection of Delegates

MAY SIGN ON MONDAY

Arrangements for Ceremony Near Completion Despite Possibility of Short Delay.

Paris, June 26.—By request of the "Big Four," Haniel von Haimhausen, acting German plenipotentiary, sent a wireless message to Berlin late yesterday inquiring when the German government proposes to carry out its pledge of unconditional signature. An immediate answer is demanded by the powers and should be in by tomorrow morning. If this answer is in line with previous evasions and designed to gain more time the powers will send another ultimatum, but this time the Germans will be given so many hours, not days, n which to make an iron-clad announcement as to when Her new delegates will arrive at Versailles.

The Bauer government, now at Berlin, is known to be in a dilemma, for thus far it has found no man willing to sign the treaty for Germany.

The hope of seeng the final act of the world drama completed Saturday is fast waning in French official circles. Monday seems now the more likely date.

Earlier in the day President Wilson, chafing under the delay, had Premier Clemenceau send M. Dutasta, secretary of the Peace Conference, to Haniel von Haimhausen for information as to when the Germans would arrive here.

He has no news, however, from his government. The only dispatch that had reached him during the past twenty-four hours told of the Bauer government's departure from Weimar to Berlin. From this it was inferred that a day or two might pass without the Germans sayng a word about their new delegation, and the step to hasten action war therefore taken.

Upon the advice of Secretary Lansin, President Wilson today decided to use his personal ring to seal his signature on the treaty instead of the offical seal of the President of the United States.

WILL SELL LIGHT BEER

Boston Barkeepers Declare Act Does Not Say What Is Intoxicating Liquor

Boston, June 26.—Boston saloonkeepers plan to sell 2 3-4 per cent beer after July 1, Secretary John J. Galvin, of the Retail Liquor Dealers Association announced yesterday. His statement explained the eagerness of dealers in applying for licenses recently.

"It is the plan of the liquor dealers," said Secretary Galvin, "to reopen for the sale of 2 3-4 per cent beer and ale, if stronger beverages are not permitted and if enforcement legislation does not cut it off. Our general position is not to defy the law, but the law has not yet decided what strength of liquor is intoxicating."

A message from St. Louis last night announces that he injunction proceedings brought in the United States District Court here by the St. Louis Brewing Association and the Independent Brewers' Company, to restrain Federal authorities from interfering with the manufacture of beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol, pending decision by the United States Supreme Court whether such beer is intoxicating, will not be pressed, attorneys announced.

FEARS ARE GROUNDLESS

Wholesale Dealers in Sugar Urge Consumers Not to Buy Beyond Immediate Needs

Fear that the supply of sugar for the State will soon be exhausted and that prices will ascend beyond the ordinary purchaser's ability is generally held groundless by wholesale grocers.

It was admitted that the supply on hand is low, the situation being attributed to the drainage of the canning and preserving season, the fact that he allied countries are drawing heavily upon America, and last, but not least, to those persons who, fearing the supply will be entirely exhausted, are buying far beyond their immediate needs.

It declared by the dealers that much of the present flurry is needless, and that the shortage, not serious in itself, becomes acute by the fact that persons are purchasing unwarranted amounts, pointing out that during the past few days many buyers who ordinarily take five or ten pounds are ordering fifty to 100 pounds. Efforts to stop this practice are being made, but dealers assert that every reasonable order will be filled.

Wholesales base their optimism up on the fact that the raw sugar supply is declared to be the greater in history, Refiners have unlimited quantities of the product to work with they say, and every concern is working at capacity to fill the demand for the refined goods. Allied countries are requiring three times as much sugar from this country as at any previous period but wholesalers appear confident yesterday that the supply would be sufficient to meet all needs if proper judgment will be used by the purchasers.

RECESSION OF THE TIDE

The war has been virtually over since last November, and many places, previously not on maps, which have flourished during the past year or two, may take their adieux. Like Jonah's guard, they sprang in a night and may perish in a night.

Five complete towns, including Hopewell, Va.; Carney's Point, N. J.; Haskell, N. J.; and two smaller communities, all of them set up by the Du Ponts during the war to house the thousands of workers employed at their ammuition factories, are to go under the hammer. Factory buildings, railroad terminals, street car lines, dwelling houses, theatres, hotels, garages, automobiles, city halls and tugboats are to be sold by the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company in the next three years to the highest bidders it is said.

The company is hopeful of disposing of the factory plants to new industries willing to set up operations at these towns in order to keep the communities from being completely wiped off the map. Hopewell has a listed population of 20,000, and at the close of the war the powder plant there was employing 25,000. There are two hotels, with accommodations for 350 guests; 604 single houses, 126 two-apartment houses and 167 six-apartment houses. In addition there a re amusement halls, moving picture theatres, bowling houses, billiard rooms, Young Men's Christian Association houses, restaurants and lunch counters.

NEW VALLEY PAPER

The first number of the "Woodstock Times" made its appearance this week. E. E. Keister is the owner and manager, and William Anthony editor. It is neatly printed and in modern garb, and will doubtless meet with the support the enterprise deserves.

DESPICABLE DEED

Caretaker Admiral von Reuter, by whose order the surrendered German fleet at Scapa Flow was scuttled by stealth, was the officer who protested that it "was not in keeping with the idea of chivalry between two honorable opponents" that the flag of Germany should be hauled down when her ships that had yielded without a fight were laid up at the British base pending negotiation of a treaty of peace. Admiral Beatty pointed out that the armistice merely suspended hostilities, a state of war still existing between Germany and the Allies. "Under the circumstances no enemy vessel," he said, "can be permitted to fly its national ensign in British waters while under custody.

Admral von Reuter, having done what his proud countrymen describe as a "handsome deed" and made "a fine gesture," seeks to justify himself by giving to the word "interned" a meaning it was never intended to have in the text of the armistice, forgetting that the fleet which might have gone down lighting preferred the abasement of surrender.

As the New Yok Times says, "an example should be made of Admiral von Reuter. He should be tried by an Allied tribunal. He deliberately violated the armistice and destroyed property worth hundreds of millions of dollars that had passed from the possession of Germany, had been forfeited. The exulting German people, whose standards of right and wrong are so helplessly confused, should be taught the lesson that the deed was not 'handsome' but despicable. And the German reparation bill should be increased by the value of the destroyed fleet to the Allies and the United States. To say that it was well sunk is to beg a great moral question.

DELAYING THE INEVITABLE

Germany may be likened to a man about to be hanged who is delaying the ceremony as long as possible. The National Assembly has directed the Hun delegates to sign, but the latter are employing all the procrastination in their power to postpone. a procedure which will relegate the Fatherland to a back seat among the nations of the world.

The clock, however, will soon strik,e, and should those entrusted with the duty to carry put the order of the Assembly fail to perform the same, the allies are prepared dictate peace terms in Berlin instead of in Versailles.

Some representative Frenchmen still living who witnessed the humiliation of their nation when the haughty Bismarck imposed one of the most cruel treaties in the world's history will be present when the Hun delegates see the pen. While most of the Frenchman who will be present on that occasion will be the foremost representatives of the country, we suggest that room should be made for a loyal woman, one who has lived in the hope that before death shall have sealed her eyes she would witness the abasement of the enemy of her country. We refer to Sarah Bernhardt, now tottering with age. She never was reconstructed, and has never let an opportunity pass to show her contempt for Germany. On one occasion, years ago, the "divine Sarah" insulted a sabre-rattling German officer who was in Paris speaking derogatory of France.

Notable among the persons who will attend the ceremony of the signing of the treaty will be five Senators, who participated in the campaign of 1870. Premier Clemenceau announced in the Senate yesterday that these men will be honored with plaes in the Hall of Mirrors in the chateau at Versailles.

Marshall Petain, accompanied by six French generals, Mrs Wilson and her secretary, and Miss Margaret Wilson will be among the thousand persons, including delegates and secretaries, who will be present when the Germans attach their signatures.

The Germans will be admitted at a side entrance from the park after the other delegations are seated at the horseshoe table within which will be the signing table where the treaty will lie.

TO OUR CLERGY

Marietta Minnigerode Andrews, residing near the Theological Seminary contigouous to Alexandria, sends the following to Baltimore paper:

On show us oftener the mind of Christ!
We care so little what your theories be!
Our hearts have been too far from Him enticed
By your "Theology."
This prayer is offered with sincere respect
For all your learned ingenuity;
But consciences grow rusty with neglect,
Mouldy with Theory.
The finished essay to the mind appeals,
Rich in poetic phrase, in thought profound;
We miss the tender touch of One who heals
The sad heart's unseen wound.
Uncover then His face, that we may see;
Lift up His all-compelling cross again
And prove once more, when lifted up, that He
Has power to draw all men!
Show us the man acquainted with all grief!
Point out the way His human footsteps trod;
His own blest words still sanction the belief
Who Jesus see—sees God.

NEVER MIND THE COST

Intimation that exhaustion of the President's traveling fund may interfere with his projected itinerary to urge on the stump adoption of the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant will be received with mild interest. The President usually does what he sets out to do and if Congress should suddenly become niggardly a way will be found, no doubt, to finance the trip if the President should feel unable to do so.

Not only advocates of the League but its opponents ought to wish to se the President go before the people on the issue. We are not particularly partial to the usual Presidential "swing about the circle." There has been a little too much of it in recent years. But this is an ocasion when the American people want to hear from first hand all there is to be known about League of Nations, the obligations it entials, how essential it is to the making of peace and what sound promise it bears of preventing future wars. In no other way would the debate arouse so keen an interest, give the public so intimate an acquaintance with the details of the plan and center attention on it as would the proposed journey of the President himself.

The question is of the gravest character, involving a radical departure from the policies that have governed our international relations from the beginning of the republic. Men differ widely in their views of it. It is before the Senate, or soon will be, for rejection, amendment or ratification. The American people are entitled to all light they can get on it, and as its ablest and most zealous champion the President is the man to give it. By all means let them hear him, the cost be hanged.

Copenhagen, June 26.—Serious rioting occurred at Hamburg on Monday and Tuesday, when mobs attacked food preserving factories, it being alleged that the bodies of dogs and cats had been found in them. The managers were dragged to the streets and roughly handled. The war provision department also was attacked, and its offices wrecked.

The mob tried to disarm troops marching through the streets, and the latter opened fire, a number of persons being killed and wounded.

WOULD SMASH IDOL OF GERMAN NATION

Paris, June 26.—Deputy Peyroux of the federated Republican groups in the Chamber of Deputies, and several of his colleagues introduced a resolution in the Chamber yesterday German national monument on the Niederwald so as to punish German pride and to answer the destruction of the fleet at Scapa Flow and the burning of the French batle flags of 1870. The Deputy requested an immediate discussion.

The German national monument on the Niederwald is opposite Bingen on the Rhine in the French area of occupation. It was erected to commemorate the founding of the German Empire in 1870-71. The monument is on a hill 740 feet above the Rhine. The base is 78 feet high and a large figure of Germania arises to a height of thirty three feet more. PEACE HOPE ON PRESIDENT

Wilson Has Two Ways Open in Which to Lift War-Time "Dry" Edict

Washington, June 26.—With war-time prohibition under the food stimulation act of November 21, 1918, scheduled to go into effect within a week interest here and throughout the country centers in whether the President intends to suspend operation of the law. Investigation here shows that the President probably will act as soon as he has the legal authority to do so, and that prohibition ushered in by the food bill is not going to remain in force long, even if the President does not feel warranted to prevent its making the country bone dry on July 1.

There are two courses of action open to the President, according to authoritative information here, and the chances are all in favor of his adopting one or the other. The first is for the President to intervene before next Wednesday and irrespective of Congress declare that the need of war-time prohibition under the food bill has passed. The other is for the President to await reports from the legal advisers that demobilization of the American troops has been completed in the sense of the statute and then put the food stimulation bill with its wartime prohibition hors du combat.

The opinion of officials in the President's confidence is that the latter course, is perhaps more likely than the former, though they will not be surprised to see war-time prohibition nipped before it starts. Under the latter contingency the nation would have a few weeks of the "bone dry" experiment, followed by the lifting of the ban until next January, when nation wide prohibition goes into effect under the amendment to the National Constitution.

VALERA OVATION

Ten Thousand Persons Greet Champion of Irish Freedom

New York, June 26.—Eammon de Valera, President of the Irish republic, received another ovation last night when he went to the Carmelite Hall to present diplomas to the graduation class of the Carmelite Priory School, of which his friend and associate, the Rev. Peter E. Magennis, is the head.

The crowd that gathered to catch a glimpse of the leader of the latest fight for Irish freedom was so great police reserves were called to keep the roadway clear for regular taffic. It was estimated by police that fully 10,000 people were assembled in the sterets adjacent to the hall.

De Valera, when he appeared accompanied by an escott of the Friends of Irish Freedom, was greeted with a tremendous outburst of cheering and cries of "Hrurah for De Valera!" Inside the hall he was met by another volley of cheers that almost raised the roof.

Dixie in the Hall of States

Southern soldiers to the number of 1,400 lying in the great Army Debarkation hospitals of New York, are dependent for their first touches of home cheer and welcome, on the efforts of just a few women who are striving valiantly to meet the needs of the situation but have found themselves overwhelmed by the work. Mrs. Leroy Broun of the Southern Society who has charge of the welcoming of wounded men, centering at the Hall of States, maintained by War Camp Community Service at 27 West 25th St., has appealed repeatedly for more volunteers from the states of Alabama, Arkansas, North Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Lorisiana, Mississippi, Virginia, and West Virginia, and has a few representatives of some of these states picked as Chairmen for their own commonwealths, but she has not been able to find sufficient volunteers to take care of separate desks for each state, as should be done in view of the great number of wounded men arriving here daily, sometimes to the number of 4,000 in 24 hours.

The Southern Society maintains at the Sewannee House, 124 East 58th St., a home center for the southern soldiers and those who are able to find their way there are entertained lavishly. The men who are unable to leave the hospitals or who have only a few days in the debarkation hospitals, however, are dependent for their welcome on letters sent by State committees in the Hall of States, and Mrs. Broun has been unable to recruit sufficient forces to write to all the southern men.

The Southern states mentioned are somewhat at a disadvantage as compared with their sisters of Maryland, Tennessee, South Carolina, Kentucky, and Texas, which maintain separate desks and separate organizations for welling to their individual men. Still other states, notably Massachusetts and Kansas, have made appropriations of from $35,000 to $50,000 for the welcoming of their boys to America, and some of them maintain large club rooms in New York in addition to their desks in the Hall of States. Several of these states have sent secretaries direct from home to take charge of the work here. Mrs. Broun has been getting in touch with various organizations in the individual and southern states, and special endeavors are now being made to get a desk started for Mississippi and Louisiana. H. M. L. Smith of 1107 Broadway, has gone to Mississippi with a view to interesting there the State government or State organizations in the work for the wounded men here.

Outside of the cheering and visiting of wounded men, the women at the Hall of States are busily engaged in welcoming men from other home communities who are able to get about. Another important activity is a nation-wide employment bureau which the War Camp Community Service maintains, and whose Manager, J. H. Vertrees, seeks positions back home for men from the southern states, and sends lads direct from here to the jobs.

Mrs. Broun's efforts at the Hall of States are seconded daily by Miss Elvira B. Wright of Charleston, S. C., who takes special care of the South Carolina men, and gives help to all other southern soldiers, and by Mrs. Alfred Spencer who, like Mrs. Broun, is from Memphis. Chairmen have been appointed for several of the individual states, but sickness or absence from the city has prevented most of them from doing any active work.

SLAIN WOMAN'S BODY FOUND

Answers to Description of Mrs. Henderson, Soldier's Wife, Missing Since June 15.

Baltimore, June 26.—The body of a 30 year old woman, apparently murdered, was found floating in the harbor yesterday at foot of Russell street, near the American Ice Company plant. The body seems to answer the description of Mrs. Mary Henderson, 219 West Monument St., who disappeared from her home on June 15. The police are trying to find her husband, Randolph Henderson, a Canadian soldier, who has returned to his home in this city.

The body had been in the water so long that the skin had come off, but in size and build, color of hair and even to a scar on the left side of the nose, near the eye, it answers Mrs. Henderson's description.

A deep gash in the throat extending almost from ear to ear is believed to have caused the woman's death, but the examination at the Morgue, where the body was taken, shows another stab wound. The body had been in the water about 10 days.

FOUR DEAD IN CRASH

Nashville, Tenn., June 26.—Four trainmen were killed and one seriously injured when a heavily loaded coal train, No. 124 northbound, and the third section of freight train No. 115, southbound, crashed in a head-on collision yesterday morning a mile north of Faxon, Tenn., on the Memphis division of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

KILLED LIFTING CAN

George Carson Electrocuted at Washington Factory Through Short Circuit.

George Carson, employe of the large ice cream plant at 1306 Wisconsin avenue, Washington, yesterday morning was the victim of a strange accident which cost him his life. He was electrocuted while lifting a can containing ice cream at the factory.

Carson established contact with a heavily charged wire supplying current for the refrigerating machinery and when he placed his hand on the can at the top of a mechanical hoist he was fatally shocked, being pronounced dead when brought to Georgetown University Hospital.

Investigation by the coroner established that Carson's electrocution was due to a short circuit and a jury found that death was accidental. He was 43 years old.

TREMBLE ON CHAOS BRINK

Civil Strife and Disruption Threaten Germany on Eve of Treaty Signing.

Copenhagen, June 26.—Germany is skidding along the edge of chaos. Already disturbances, strikes and in some cases actual riots have broken out in some of the big cities. Hamburg, always a hot-bed of Spartacism and one of the starting points of the original revolution, is under martial law.

The fundamental rift threatening civil war appears to be between the troops and officers of the defunct imperial army on the one hand and the radicals on the other.

From Weimar comes word of attempts by troops to arrest and hang Dr. Mathias Erzberger and Phillip Scheidemann, the former for his sudden face-about on the signing of peace, the latter for not holding his ministry together instead of stepping out and making room for Gustav Bauer and the "signature cabinet."

A detachment of Chasseurs moved on the castle at Weimar and demanded the surrender of Erzberger, frankly saying they wanted to hang him. They found that the new Vice Premier had fled to Erfurt.

Vorwaerts, the organ of the majority Socialist party, openly predicts a reactionary attempt to plunge Germany into self-annihilation. Plundering is rampart in Berlin.

Food shops are the scenes of free-for-all fights. Three children have been killed in the course of street battles. In Dusseldorf all traffic is suspended. The city is in the throes of a Spartacan outbreak.

President Ebert, in an appeal to the soldiers, says: "A starving process if not devastation would have visited Germany if we had rejected the treaty and self-mutilation and the ruin of the empire would have been certain to follow.

"Our Germany must live. That is what we had in mind when, after terrific inward struggles and with bleeding hearts, we resolved on the terrible 'Yes.'"

ALLEGED THREATS

Mountaineer Had Grudge Against Magistrate, Witness Asserts.

Charlottesville, Va., June 26.—The prosecution in the Edgar Morris case yesterday piled up corroborative evidence, to support the story of the shooting of former Magistrate Bluford Sullivan as narrated by Justices Yowell and Herndon Tuesday. Witnesses testified that they saw nothing happen which indicated that Sullivan was drawing a gun.

Other witnesses testified to threats having been made by the defendant against the slain justice. These were that he would "get Son Sullivan," because he had improperly imposed fines upon him.

The first witness was Bessie Davis, who said Edgar told her that "as for Son, he was his man, and he was going to get him." Others testifying along the same line were George Shifflett, who told of Morris having said he had nothing against any man but "Son" Sullivan, and Walker Roberts, who testified to remarks by Morris at Jack Davis' house that, "if 'Son' Sullivan kept bothering with his business, he would get some of these" tossing some pistol catridges in his hand.

This closed the testimony of the prosecution, except that of Sheriff Malone, who had not arrived. It was agreed he could be examined later. Court adjourned for the day to allow counsel for defense to confer with their client.

BLAME DEATH ON LOCUST

Reading, Pa., June 26.—A baby of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kunkel, of near Kempton, is believed to have died from the effects of a seventeen year old locust bite.

The child, aged two months, was picked up the mother after an apparently good night's rest, with a swollen face. A locust was discovered in the bed. Medical aid was summoned, but after a week's suffering the child died today.

The Good Will of an Army

The written and spoken word of American Army men, at home and abroad, has given the very name of Dodge Brothers Motor Car a new and a stirring significance.

THE VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA
Under the Leadership if
GENERAL AND MRS. BALLINGTON BOOTH

Dodge Automobile Company,
Detroit, Michigan. May 12, 1919.
Gentlemen:

Several times while traveling through France and Germany I was inspired to exclaim, "I really must write to the Dodge Company, when I get home and tell them what I think of their car". Now, that I am home that intention has not weakened. I have spent the whole of this winter in France and Germany amid the mud and rain and shell torn roads of the battle front, and later over the steep mountains and through the narrow gorges between the Luxenberg and the Rhine.

General Pershing gave me for my use while I served the A. E. F. a Dodge car. With my little company of entertainers I was enabled to go to many of the boys in isolated spots who had no transportation to send for me and would have gone without entertainments had I not had my own car. We traveled hundreds of miles, some times over almost impassible roads. We scaled mountains, where at every minute we feared our little car might balk at further pressure. We never had a moment's trouble. I can say most emphatically that the Dodge gave splendid service and held out where we had found other cars disabled by the road side.

When my service with the Army was through and I had to return the car to them I felt as if I was parting with a personal friend and wished that it could run me down to Brest and be taken aboard the transport and sail for home with me.

From what I have heard from many sources I believe that others have had just as successful experiences with the Dodge at the front as we have had.

Believe me,
Very cordially yours,
(Signed) MAUD B. BOOTH.

TREATY GUARANTEE OF WAR

Senator Borah Declares Ireland, Korea and Egypt Should Have Been Freed.

Washington, June 26.—Discussion of the peace treaty and the League of Nations developed in the Senate during consideration of the Army appropriation bill.

Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho declared the treaty was "a guarantee of war." He said the "acid test" of the document was not its application of the principle of self-determination to the people of enemy countries but to peoples dominated by the Allies.

Ireland, Korea and Egypt, Senator Borah asserted, should have been given independence.

"I am not criticising the President for what he failed to do," said Mr Borah. "He was prevented by the imperialistic designs of the European nations with which he was associated.

"There is no doubt that the sentiment of America included Ireland

Mr. Borah spoke in reply to Senator Thomas (Democrat), Colorado, who declared partisan politics was involved in the Borah resolution recently adopted by the Senate, requesting a hearing at the Peace Conference for representatives of the Provisional Irish Republic.

FAINTS AFTER GRILLING

Forced to Answer Questions About Marriage At Libel Trial

Mt. Clemens, Mich., June 26.—A pathetic incident delayed yesterday's session of the Henry Ford-Chicago Daily Tribune libel suit. Mrs. Ernest Prall, after an embarrassing cross-examination, fainted as she rushed from the court room and fell across the doorway. Her husband, who had just been sworn, and others, rushed to her aid and a recess of fifteen minutes was taken.

Mrs. Prall testified Monday that for a month after her husband, a Ford employee, went South with the National Guard, she and her children suffered greatly from want.

On cross-examination by Alfred J Murphy yesterday, she was asked the date of her marriage.

"I won't answer; I didn't come here to talk of my family affairs," she sobbed.

Mr. Murphy insisted and finally made the quivering girl's story plain She was weeping when she left the stand and a moment later as her husband's testimony started, she fainted.

WINNIPEG STRIKE ENDS

Men Gained Nothing By Six-Weeks Agitation

Winnipeg, Man., June 26.—After nearly six weeks of industrial strife, Winnipeg's general sympathetic strike has been called off.

Shortly before midnight the central strike committee came to an agreement to order all men back to work today exactly six weeks from the time it was called.

Similar announcements came from Calgary and Edmonton, Alta, where strikes had been called in sympathy with the Winnipeg walkout. The prediction also was made by strike leaders in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., that the sympathetic strikes in those cities would be called off today or tomorrow.

According to the announcement, the calling off of the strike is unconditional. Conferences of labor leaders yesterday with Premier Norris of Manitoba and other provincial officials failed to obtain any concessions.

DENIED BY AMERICANS

No Ground for Intimation of U. S. Overriding Lloyd George's Plea

Paris, June 26.—An authorized denial was made in a high American source yesterday that there was any truth in an intimation made in the British House of Commons Tuesday by Horatio Bottomley, Independent member from South Hackney and editor of John Bull, respecting the disposition of the German war fleet.

Mr. Bottomley's intimation was that President Wilson had overruled the plea of Premier Lloyd George that the German ships should be surrendered instead of interned.

FACING BIG STRIKE

Berlin, June 26.—Germany is faced with a nation wide railroad strike for higher wages. At the Gorlitz Station, Berlin, service has been stopped in both directions. The Breslau service has been badly interrupted.

The government is negotiating in an endeavor to halt the strikes which are largely the outcome of Communistic propaganda.

FRONTIER IS FORTIFIED

United States Has Built Permanent Camps to Guard the Mexican Border

Washington, June 26.—Completion of forts and housing accommodations along the Mexican order, undertaken by the War Department to ameliorate the trials of the troops serving as patrols, will give the United States its first real fortified frontier.

Regularly established army posts along the international boundary now total more than two score, with probably as many more than two score outpost positions each accommodating a troop of cavalry or an infantry platoon. The three year watch of the American troops led the War Department finally to decide that permanent housing should be furnished.

The cost of this construction to the Government has been small. Major General De Rosey C. Cabell, commanding the Southern Department, was authorized to visit the camps in his department which were to be abandoned and to claim any material needed. Entire buildings were transported to the border and re-erected by the troops. Only a very small quantity of new lumber and equipment was used.

NEWS SHOCKS EXKAISER

Decision of German Assembly Causes New Gloom at Amerongen.

Amerongen, June 26.—News of Germany's decision to accept the peace terms, including the clause providing for the delivery of the former German emperor to the allies, reached the castle late Monday evening. The attitude of members of the emperor's party gives rise to the belief that the news was a considerable shock.

Attendants they declared the news was already known at the castle. They made the most scathing criticisms of the German national assembly for its action. Evidently they had held to the hope that some way would be found for the former emperor to return to Germany. Now, however, it apparently is realized that he is exiled forever from his country.

The former monarch resumed his customary log sawing at the usual hour.

FATAL QUARREL

Walter Dunn Shot Dead in Dispute at Home of George Deane.

Danville, Va., June 26.—George Deane, aged 50 a prominent tobacco farmer of Irishburg, has been lodged in Martinsville jail charged with the murder on Monday night of Walter Dunn, a neighboring farmer. Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Deane went searching for blackberries Monday, and by arrangement Dunn called for his wife to escort her home. Hardly had he met Deane when the latter, according to the police, drew a pistol and shot Dunn.

Nearly a year ago the two men had an estrangement, when Deane surprised Dunn talking to his wife in the road while he was driving by with a load of corn. Deane is reported to have told Dunn never to set foot on his premises again, an injunction which was obeyed until Monday night.

The coroner, sheriff and a magistrate went to the scene of the killing Tuesday, held an inuest and a preliminary hearing, after which Deane was ordered incarcerated without bond.

Toledo Men Refuse to Pay Higher Fares on Street Railway

Toledo, Ohio, June 26.—More than 2,000 employes of the Toledo Shipbuilding Company, refusing to submit to an increase in street car fare, late yesterday afternoon ditched two cars and in the violence that followed windows in two others were smashed with bricks.

One of the cars that was turned over caught fire and the services of the city fire department were necessary.

The prevailing rate has been 5 cents with 1 cent for a transfer. The new rate reuires 6 cents fare and 2 cents for a transfer

THEATRES

GRAND THEATER

It is not often that a motion picture producer can call to his aid the services of a Queen and women of the most exclusive nobility of England. But David Ward Griffith, producer of the famous "Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and "Hearts of the World," has succeeded in accomplishing this in "The Great Love," his first photoplay for Artcraft which will be shown at the Grand Theatre tonight.

Ingomar—J. Warren Kerrigan

Romance and advanture, thrills and suspense abound in J. Warren Kerrigan's latest picture, "The End of the Game," showing tonight at the Ingomar Theatre. Especially written by George Elwood Jenks for the popular star of J. D. Hampton poductions, "The End of the Game" depicts the '49 romance of a Western gunman once a Virginia gentleman, and a delicate New England girl, who follows the Santa Fe trail in search of gold. Lois Wilson who has firmly established herself in the hearts of all followers of Kerrigan pictures, is again leading lady.

Richmond—Constance Talmadge

How a young and beautiful wife looses her husband and then wins him back again is delightfully portrayed by Constance Talmadge in her latest Select Picture, "Happiness a la Mode," in which Lewis J. Selznick presents here today at the Richmond Theatre.

Barbara Townsend was ambitions to make a success of married life. She realized that to try and pen up a husband and jealously watch his every action would be fatal to her aspiration. So strongly was she impressed with this idea that she did not realize that she was giving him too much freedom. So when he came to her one day and asked for a divorce it was a painful shock to her. He had mistaken her attitude for a lack of interest in him and "another woman" was the result. Nevertheless, Barbara was proud and she gave him his divorce. but she didn't give him up. This action was merely the first step in her grand plan to win him back, which forms a very clever story, admirably adapted for this vivacious star.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
